Christine Lake to Speak at February 18 Luncheon

Author, healer and self-taught contemporary portrait painter, Christine Lake, was born and raised in New York. Her unique journey is a cross section of experiences and the lessons she learned, including a charity trek to Nepal to climb Mt. Everest. She'll share her fears, insights and the gifts that she received during the 78 mile hike to Base Camp 1 at an elevation of 17,598 feet.

Reflections on January 21st luncheon on Identity Theft

We had an extremely informative meeting led by our speaker, FBI Agent John Iannarelli. We are especially appreciative that John took time out from planning security for the Super Bowl. He provided a great mix of information laced with self-effacing humor to update us on the importance of identity theft and computer security and created an awareness of our need to be vigilant in terms of our personal information and how easily it can be accessed.

Thank you, Addie for arranging this event and for planning a delicious lunch.
